BRITISH JUGGERNAUTS BIG FACTOR IN DECISIVE VICTORY GAINED ON SOMME FRONT.

PROVE IMPREGNABLE

Germans Unable to Penetrate Heavy Armored Case of Giant Steam Roller Which Was Stalled in a Trench.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

British front in France, midnight, Sept. 28.—In the last which was fought after the great two days' battle in which five villages and 2000 prisoners were taken by the allies, the correspondent of the Associated Press has had an opportunity to see many of the stories of the part of the struggle. These stories were not only of courage and heroism, but of a humor and paradox possible in such complicated and remorseless warfare.

The most wonderful of all the tales told, was perhaps that of the "tank," or new armored motor, which started for Berlin on its own account. This monstrous land ship, ambling and rumbling along, did not wait on the infantry after the taking of Courcelette, but plodded on, shell holes and across the front for its prey. In course of time it found a German trench, but as it engaged the occupants with its machine guns, it ran out of gasoline.

When the Germans found this strange creature with its steel hide impregnable to bullets, stalled on a path and a desire for revenge was kindled in their hearts. They went after it with the avidity of prehistoric man, stalking a wounded mammoth whose bulk was fast in one of the holes of the cave. They were so much like some of the cave dwellers that such game was ever seen in this western front, marked as it has been by all kinds of fighting.

Germans Attack Verdun. Paris, Sept. 28.—A strong attack was made by the Germans last night on Verdun front between Thiaucourt and Fleury. The war office announced today that the assault was repulsed with heavy losses for the Germans.

Can't Penetrate "Tank" Shell. According to accounts given by British officers with machine guns, the tank, which was stalled in a trench, was the target of the German attack. The tank's machine guns kept busy at the new targets in the trench, and the Germans, who had started, continued to find the proper can opener to get them out.

Finally the British infantry in the trench, waiting for the tank to be ordered, and with cheers they rushed upon the Germans and overpowered them. When the crew heard the cheering, they opened the door and called out, "We are all right, if you will only get us some more juice so the old girl can take her proper drink and we can take the road again."

Capture of Thiepval. The taking of Thiepval and Zolaire, which lies between the Somme and the Marne, was a wonderful business. The capture of Thiepval was held by the 180th British division. According to prisoners the defenders had fortified the commanding ridge with machine guns and dugouts. The British dugouts were dug into the chalky earth with beaver like industry until they were safe under a shell of fire, which would have turned any other of the war type, into the jumbled grave of its garrison.

The me not the 180th asked permission to remain in the trench giving word it would never be taken from them unless the German army commander consented.

But by bit since July 1, the British have worked their way forward. Yesterday when the war office announced that the British had taken Thiepval, the British soldiers, as one of the captured German soldiers said, were at the doors of the dugouts, almost as soon as the last of the German bombardment had burst. The British in the trenches kept the Germans in the trenches, and when it had lifted the British in many places, the German galleries, of escape were closed, surrendered in bodies. In other instances they kept the faith that the 180th would die before it ever surrendered.

New York Advance. London, Sept. 28.—British troops last night advanced at various points on the Somme front, between Marbais and Gueudecourt, says today's official statement.

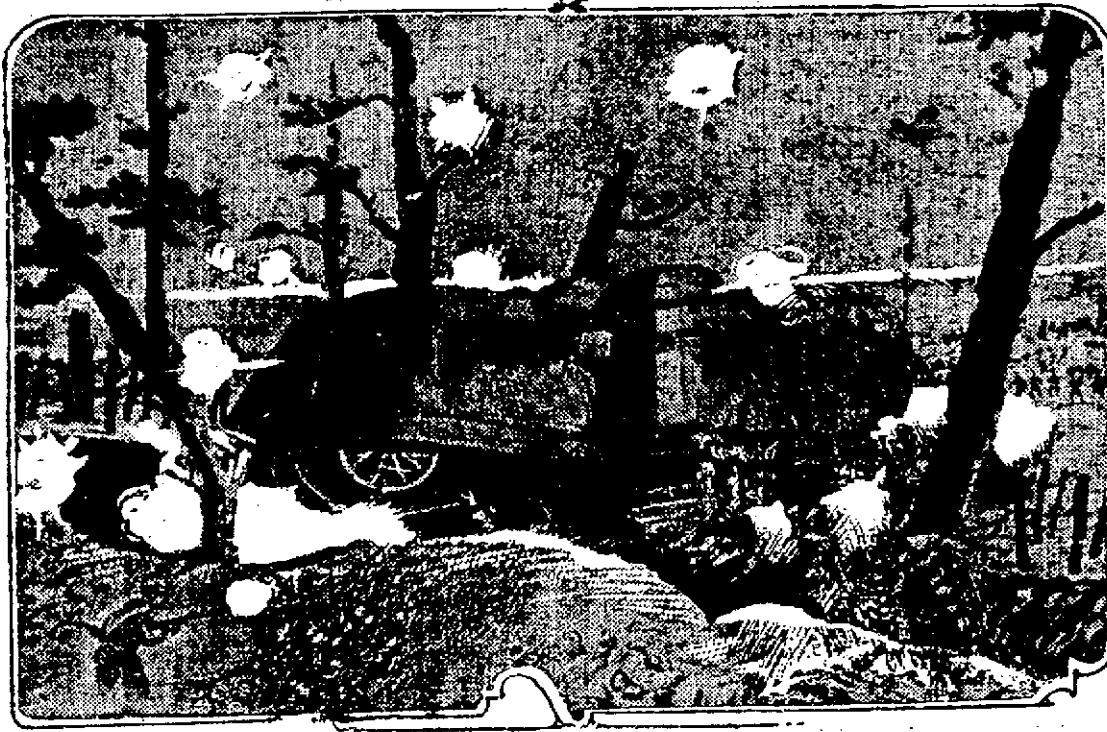

Germans Make Claims. Berlin, Sept. 28.—German troops yesterday victoriously repulsed Anglo-French attacks on the greater part of the front between the Ancre and the Somme, says today's official statement.

Serbs Check Four Attacks. London, Sept. 28.—The repulse of four successive Bulgarian attacks on Kaimakalan Mountain is described in a dispatch from Serbian headquarters to Reuters, dated Wednesday. The dispatch says the Bulgarians after receiving reinforcements of more than a regiment, yesterday attacked the Serbian line near Kaimakalan. In the darkness they were able to get into the first line trenches, but at a heavy sacrifice. An officer who was taken prisoner, said that crossing the space between the opposing lines, was like walking over a bed of corpses.

Desperate hand to hand fighting occurred in the trenches. The Bulgarians attacked four times, but were driven out and finally retiring, beaten. The Serbian losses were heavy, the Bulgarians fearful. Fifty prisoners were taken.

French Repulse Bulgars. Paris, Sept. 28.—Bulgarian forces made two attacks last night near Florina on the western end of the Macedonian front. The repulse of these attacks by the French and Russians, is

NEW BRITISH CAR OF JUGGERNAUT WINS FRESH VICTORIES

New British armored tractor charging a German trench.

The London dispatches during the past few weeks have contained glowing accounts of the activities of a new engine of destruction which the British army has just adopted. The weapon is a giant armored motor car, equipped with a battery of from eight to twelve rapid fire guns. The employment of the caterpillar type of wheels enables this car to travel over even the roughest country at "high" and its heavy armor makes it invulnerable except to the heavier artillery. The picture drawn by an eminent artist, from movie pictures of the monster, shows it charging a trench, an occupation at which it has proved remarkably effective.

No further attacks on Kaimakalan heights have been undertaken by the Bulgarians. On the Struma front near Janina, British artillery was more active.

On the Somme front, French batteries are actively bombarding the Ger-

GO INTO POLITICS
BANKERS ARE URGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28.—Advocacy of universal military training in this country and greater participation in national, state and municipal politics was urged here today by speakers before the American Bankers' association.

Military service for all young men was urged by James J. Lynch of San Francisco, president of the association, and Frank A. Vanderlip of New York.

His in politics through which "democracy in politics" have gotten into city councils, state legislatures, and even congress, are due to negligence of bankers and other business men.

Mr. Vanderlip was told by Mayor George E. Edwards of Kansas City. Bankers have given freely of money to campaign funds, they said, but they should also owe their personalities to politics.

You bankers and business men are to blame," Mayor Edwards said. "You can remedy the ills of which we speak and you cannot get away from responsibility in politics."

Mr. Lynch stated preparedness was necessary because "we are today the most tempting prize under the blue canopy of heaven."

Mr. Vanderlip declared it to be the surest insurance of peace.

ILLINOIS ARTILLERY
AND BADGER BATTERY
WILL LEAVE BORDER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

San Antonio, Sept. 28.—The first regiment of the Illinois field artillery and the battery of Wisconsin artillery, which have been ordered to the Mexican border, today were designated to return to their state camp by General Funston.

They will be relieved by four batteries of Virginia artillery, one New Hampshire battery, and one Maryland battery.

The new troops will be fitted into the twelfth provisional division, which is now returning here on a "hike" from Austin.

The first Illinois artillery, the Wisconsin battery, and eighth Illinois infantry are taking part in the march. They will reach here on October 4. The date for the departure of the troops has not been determined.

U. S. BORDER DRILL
REAL PREPAREDNESS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 28.—With 100,000 state militia troops strung from gulf to gulf, the border is now a gigantic eighteen-hundred-mile-long training camp and preparation for the Mexican situation. The guardsmen are being drilled ceaselessly and whipped into condition as for actual warfare. Out of the tangled Mexican situation the United States will emerge with a new citizen army of 150,000 men.

Not only are the men being prepared but millions of dollars of equipment is being added to the army. The guardsmen are being equipped for war under any conditions. With few exceptions they would have been able to take the border only after long delay for necessary equipment. But when they leave the border Uncle Sam will have at least 150,000 "citizen soldiers" ready to spring to arms before sundown in defense of their country.

Here are some of the material things the "Mexican situation" and mobilization of the national guard have provided.

Added 1000 motor trucks, with trained civilian and soldier drivers and machine guns. The Columbus raid we had out a few score machines. Added about forty new aeroplanes to the aero squadron with an adequate motor truck convoy.

Added 65,000 horses and mules to the equipment of the army, including in this the thousand-and-one articles that go with such an increase.

Gave impetus to tests of machine guns, bomb-dropping devices and photographic devices to bring the aero squadron to modern efficiency.

Brought forcibly to the attention of the war department the need for hundreds of machine guns that would now be made.

Added caterpillar tractors, traction engines, all manner of building machines, gasoline tank trucks, water carriers, portable radio stations, scores of touring cars for officers, etc.

Replaced old-fashioned mule-drawn ambulances with more modern ambulances. Added nearly one hundred traveling cooking outfits.

Provided hundreds of other needs of an army and thrust the spotlight on the absence of thousands of other things.

Vice Presidential Candidate on Prohibition Ticket Praised Nebraska In Utah Speech.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Price, Utah, Sept. 28.—Breweries and Bryan, condemnation for one and commendation for the other, were subjects discussed to Utah folk today by Dr. Ira Landrith, prohibition vice presidential candidate as the "dry" special entered the state for a one day campaign. Bryan is wet, Bryan to us welcome. William J. Bryan to us welcome. Dr. Landrith said, "He has declared that the one great issue is liquor. He and others are going in for prohibition to free the state from the liquor traffic. He can point to their aid in the great victory."

"But don't be fooled about Bryan. He is like Roosevelt. He is not dead, he is just resting. Bryan is the only man in this country who can keep both ears to the ground, and continue marching on. I shouldn't be at all surprised if he runs again for president on the dry ticket, and I'll vote for him if he does."

J. Frank Hanly, the presidential nominee, said in a speech at the general scope of the campaign as affected by the prohibition party. An answer to a second telegram sent President Wilson last night from the state asking if California wets had quoted him correctly as being opposed to prohibition, was anxiously awaited today. The first telegram sent from San Francisco, which was answered, was to the White House, the second went to Shadow Lawn, the summer capital.

PRESS SEARCH FOR
MAIL TRAIN ROBBERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 28.—Search was being vigorously pressed today for a gang of men believed to number five or six, who late last night held up the New York-Chicago express, eastbound on the Michigan central, near Peter's corn, ten miles west of here, and after beating Fireman John Doherty into unconsciousness, made off with one pouch of money and a suitcase. The men were registered mail. How much they obtained will not be known until the authorities in Chicago and New York check up the registered matter. The coaches and Pullman were not entered.

READY TO FORGIVE
WIFE, SAYS LEDUC;
DOUBTS HER GUILT

Philadelphia, Sept. 28.—Hurry to the bedside of his wife, the one survivor in the triple shooting in a hotel here early yesterday, Joseph C. Leduc of Chicago, today said he had every confidence in her loyalty to him, and that he would stick to her through all her trouble.

Mrs. Leduc is in the Jefferson hospital. She was improved today, but physicians said she would recover without complications set in. She was shot by Mrs. Harry Belzer of New York, who found her and J. C. Graver, also of New York, in a hotel here last night. Belzer killed Graver, who had discarded her after a friendship of two years, and also ended her own life.

Affecting Bedside Meeting. There was an affecting meeting when Leduc reached the bedside of his wife, where he remained for some time. Later he was escorted to the police headquarters for an interview with the captain of detectives. Leduc said he had known Graver for ten years, and always had regarded him as a square man. He had known him for seven or eight years and had never heard his wife speak of him. Mrs. Leduc, he said, left Chicago for New York about two weeks ago to visit her nephew and his wife. He had letters from her every day.

Leduc said he did not believe his wife had visited Atlantic City with Graver. He thought she probably met him accidentally in New York and consented to take an automobile ride to this city.

The husband asked many questions about the shooting, and the police officers, gathered from newspapers. He asked how Graver and his wife had registered at the hotel, and when told as man and wife, his face grew grave.

"That was the work of Graver and I am sure Lillian did not know it," he exclaimed. "I always regarded her as a square man and I cannot understand his actions."

Leduc said he still believed his wife innocent of any wrongdoing and that he would forgive her and take her back to Chicago. She said that she had come to Philadelphia by train, and denied that she had met Graver. She said that she had been confused with that of Mrs. Belzer. She had merely attended a dance at the hotel, with Graver, and had taken him to his room for the sole purpose of leaving her handbag. A sister of Mrs. Leduc corroborated her story, while a sister of Mrs. Belzer challenged it.

EXPOSURE OF IOWA
BLACKMAIL DELAYED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Chicago, Sept. 28.—A real romance of an Iowa girl has temporarily blocked the exposure of a blackmailing scheme which resulted in the fleeing of a rich Iowa merchant out of $10,000.

The girl, whose father was the victim of the blackmail, is to be married October 20, and federal agents promised today to delay arrests until after the girl's wedding. The Iowa victim's name nor the name of his creditors will be made public until arrests are made.

Fear that his daughter's future happiness might be wrecked, and that the girl's wedding party might be cancelled, caused the blackmailers' victim to ask for delay in making exposure, department of justice agents said.

CZAR REPLIES TO
WILSON'S REQUEST

BREMEN MAY BE DUE

Berlin Advises Indicate Submarine Merchantman Will Arrive Shortly—London Claims Vessel Captured.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, via London, Sept. 28.—News of the actual docking of the submarine Bremen at New London is still lacking, but the owners and public generally assume that the telegram announcing the departure of a conveying tug from the American port will be immediately followed by the announcement that the voyage of the merchant submarine has been successfully completed.

Recalled to Submarine Coming. London, Sept. 28.—The Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph, says travelers who have arrived from Bremen report that a German commercial submarine will be ready to sail within a month. This submarine is to be known as the "Kaiser," and is said to be slightly larger than the "Deutschland."

British Claim Capture. London, Sept. 28.—The mystery of the fate of the submarine U-9, Bremen still is officially unsolved, but it is already considered the fate of the missing German submarine is still regarded as unsolved.

No News in America. There have been many reports of the expected arrival of the Bremen at various ports on the Atlantic coast recently, but up to the present it has not docked at any of them. The announcement of the arrival printed in Berlin probably has resulted from one of these many premature reports reaching the German capital.

London, Baltimore, and Norfolk have been reported as the destination of the Bremen. Recently there has been much activity in New London, and the Eastern Forwarding company, American agent for the German merchant submarines, a report from Western, R. L. 25 said that the Bremen was to meet a German submarine which was on the way to New London.

The Berlin dispatch apparently is a confirmation of reports that the Bremen had sailed for the United States and that it is due here.

DECAY AIR ATTACKS
ON LUXEMBURG SHOPS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Berlin, Sept. 28.—Critics by entrance of the German government in Luxembourg are declared by Luxembourg newspapers to be unjustified. Luxembourg, the paper declares, stands ready to furnish ammunition for any custom of the German government. The Eastern Forwarding company, American agent for the German merchant submarines, a report from Western, R. L. 25 said that the Bremen was to meet a German submarine which was on the way to New London.

The Berlin dispatch apparently is a confirmation of reports that the Bremen had sailed for the United States and that it is due here.

No reports have been received on air attacks upon Luxembourg foundries, newspaper articles being the first intimation that any such attacks have occurred.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—German aviators yesterday again dropped a great number of bombs on Bucharest, according to today's official statement. The attack was the first since the Rumanian capital "are still burning as result of our previous attack."

Nation Casts Lot With Allies at Time When Revolt Threatens to Disrupt Nation—Kavala Incident a Factor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Athens, via London, Sept. 28.—The Associated Press is in a position to state positively that King Constantine decided this morning in favor of an immediate declaration of war on Bulgaria.

To Proclaim Revolution.

Paris, Sept. 28.—An Athens dispatch to the Havas Agency says that a monster meeting will be held at Mytilene tomorrow, at which the revolution will be proclaimed.

London, Sept. 28.—Prince George of Greece, brother of King Constantine, who has been in London for some time representing the views of Greek royalists, today received a telegram from the king recalling him to Athens.

Abolish Censorship. Berlin, Sept. 28.—Today informed the German government the Greek censorship has been abolished and his government therefore declined responsibility for news dispatches from Greece.

Cart Lot With Allies. London, Sept. 28.—The council of Greek ministers has decided, in agreement with King Constantine, upon military cooperation with the entente powers, says a Reuter dispatch from Athens.

"The Greek ministerial council held in Athens yesterday evening," says a wireless dispatch from the Greek capital, "will be followed by the resignation of the Kallergopoulos cabinet, and by the cabinet of King Constantine from King Constantine to the Greek nation."

Immediately on his return from Moscow to Athens, the king, says a wireless dispatch from the Greek capital, "will be followed by the resignation of the Kallergopoulos cabinet, and by the cabinet of King Constantine from King Constantine to the Greek nation."

Venizelos Party Wins. If this dispatch proves authentic, and Greece is at last in the war, it is a Venizelos victory. Since the war began, Venizelos, which since the war began, has insisted that Greece cast its lot with the entente powers.

One of the compelling forces which has decided Greece's final action was the seizure by the Bulgarian army of their allies of Greek cities of Oranienburg and Kavala, despite Bulgaria's pledge to keep Greek territory inviolate.

Another factor in forcing King Constantine to leave the throne was the seizure and deportation to Germany of the Greek garrison at Kavala.

It is considered probable, in view of the statements of the king, that Venizelos, to his departure from Athens to lead the forces of the revolutionists that he now will see his way clear to turn his forces to aid of King Constantine in warring upon the invaders of Greek soil.

Bulgarian's Statement. New York, Sept. 28.—Stephan Panareon, Bulgarian minister to the United States, who is in New York, gave the following statement to the Associated Press:

"Bulgaria has no quarrel with Greece. It has no intention of approaching Greek territory. The occupation of their forces in the Demir Hisar district, which was done by the Bulgarian army, was a purely defensive measure. So was the occupation of Florina, Kastoria and of Kavala with its outlying forts."

With every desire to remain friendly with her neighbor, Bulgaria could not repeat the costly mistake of last autumn by continuing to respect a neutrality which did not exist. She could not remain her hands to be tied, while their enemies were making their blow. Consequently she took the step of occupying Greek territory for defensive purposes.

Defensive War. The capture by German-Bulgarian troops of Greek forces at Kavala and elsewhere cannot by any legal expedient be distorted into an act of war against Greece. These Greek units surrendered not to an enemy, but to a friend who could afford protection from pressure of the entente allies. They have today accepted not as prisoners of war, but as friends who sought protection.

"The employment of seizure of Greek territory and of the seizure of Greek territory today is an issue involving a declaration of war against Bulgaria by Greece under the circumstances is a feat of diplomacy which only shows the extent of the entente domination of Greek affairs. I repeat that Bulgaria has no quarrel with Greece."

COST OF GASOLINE HITS UTILITY PLANT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—John D. and his Standard Oil company can't put anything over on the village of South Wayne, Wisconsin—that is if the railroad commission has no objections.

The village trustees are not particularly keen on having the municipal water and heating plant show a deficit at the end of the year as it did for the year ending June 30, 1916. And according to information from the commission, much of this was caused by the high price of gasoline during the first part of this year. It seems that the plant was run by a rather antiquated gasoline engine with an appetite out of proportion to the work it performed. Consequently, when the Standard Oil raised the price of "gas," the village plant began to lose more money.

The village trustees considered for a time the proposal of a private plant to furnish the necessary current, but finally decided to buy a new engine.

As a result of the increased expense, John Jackson, village president, yesterday filed a petition with the commission asking for an adjustment of rates. At the present time nearly all the consumers are on a flat rate, there being only a few meters in the town, which according to the petition results in unjust discrimination. The commission ordered an immediate valuation of the plant made.

OVER THREE HUNDRED AT ANNUAL BANQUET OF O. E. S. CHAPTER

Three Officers of Grand Lodge Are Guests of Honor at Function Last Night at Masonic Temple.

Janesville Chapter No. 63, Order of Eastern Star, entertained 325 members and guests at its annual banquet last evening at the Masonic temple. The affair was one of the most successful of its kind that the order has given in years and served to cement the friendship with the chapters at Edgerton, Evansville and Beloit, all of which were represented by large delegations. One hundred and fifty guests from out of the city were present, it is estimated.

In addition to the visitors from the neighboring cities, the occasion was made memorable by the presence of three officers of the grand lodge, Mrs. Minnie E. Cleveland of Ripon, grand patron, L. J. Oland of Madison, grand patron, and Mrs. Mattie Ash of Edgerton, grand associate conductress.

Last evening's banquet marked the initial use of the newly decorated and remodelled dining hall, which has been arranged so that 150 persons may be seated at one time. Not only the banquet room but the entire Masonic temple has been redecorated during the past summer and new lighting fixtures of pleasing and artistic design have been installed, which, supplemented by the decorations of flowers and plants, made a most charming setting for the function.

An elaborate three course dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. F. P. Nicholson with Mrs. Will Taitman and Mrs. J. B. Stevens in charge of the serving.

RURAL MEETING OF
Y. M. C. A. OPEN SOON

Study Groups to Be Organized in Many Communities Throughout County.

Secretary Markham of the county Y. M. C. A. organization is busy getting together the various groups of young men and boys for their weekly meetings at different places in the county. This activity of the Y is one that has proved most successful in the past, and with the benefit of the experience of the work of the year will undoubtedly bring even better results than heretofore.

These groups are organized to meet once a week in school houses, town halls, fire stations and any place where a convenient meeting place can be secured. In them the men and boys conduct, under efficient leaders, Bible studies, read the papers and various studies relating to agricultural problems.

At Milton the men in charge of the work have been fortunate enough to obtain Mr. Crandall who was formerly a professor of dairying at the University of Illinois, to lead these studies and to make a short address on the most difficult problem at each meeting. It is the intention of the officers to secure some prominent man to talk to each group after the meetings.

The committees on organization in the various communities are at present being formed, and it is probable that the meetings will be started in two weeks' time.

The event was a great success by all those present. The men greatly enjoyed the athletic games and the various amusements which were provided. There were about one hundred and twenty-five men present, all of whom were given a most enjoyable time. The event was a great success by all those present. The men greatly enjoyed the athletic games and the various amusements which were provided. There were about one hundred and twenty-five men present, all of whom were given a most enjoyable time.

The man was arrested by Officer Thomas Morrissey near the fire station on North River street after he had got tangled up in the railroad tracks. Officers said that he ran on to the sidewalk at the corner of Milwaukee and River street but injured neither the car nor a pedestrian.

Here's the record made by an officer when called to investigate the smashup of an automobile in front of the home of Mrs. Reberg on South Academy street.

N. B. C. GRAHAM CRACKERS

'You don't have to coax the children to eat plenty of N. B. C. Graham Crackers. These are not only rich in the nourishment that builds bone and muscle, but their tempting taste makes the little appetites hungry for more.

N. B. C. Graham Crackers added an individuality and nut-like flavor that other Graham crackers lacked. This makes them an almost universally popular article of everyday diet.

COMMITTEE WANTS ALL BOYS AT PICNIC

Failure of Crop Does Not Bar Any Contestant From Coming to Picnic Given By Commercial Club.

Arrangements for the picnic to be given by the Commercial club to the participants in the contests which they have been conducting throughout the summer, are practically completed. There have been a number of the boys who have inquired as to whether they could attend the picnic even though the crops were failures. Many of the corn crops which were being carefully and patiently nursed into excellent condition for the contest, were completely ruined by the severe frosts that visited this section some days ago. The officials in charge of the picnic are most cordial in their invitation to all of these boys. They want every contest boy in the county to be at that picnic regardless of their success in the corn contest.

The returns from the many invitations sent out are most gratifying. The committee in charge of the affair, so far, four-fifths of the boys invited have stated that their families would also attend the picnic, so everyone is positive that the coming event will be one of the most successful from a community standpoint that has ever been proposed in this county. Beloit has most generously come to the assistance of Janesville by providing many motor cars to take the residents of the southern part of the county, and by making arrangements to have Beloit as a gathering place for these people. It is the hope of members of the Janesville Commercial club and the Business Men's association of Beloit to arrange interest in the projected concrete highway between the two cities, which will be an integral part of a trunk line to Madison, by showing the assembled citizens of the county the advantages and advantages accruing from the construction of this road. The picnic party will make a brief study of concrete roads and will then discuss the matter by various authorities.

EVENING SCHOOL TO HAVE MORE CLASSES

Afternoon Sewing Classes Also Arranged in Various Neighborhoods—More Classes if Wanted.

The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, at the Washington school. The director of the other classes do, Director Hill this morning said that there was still room for three or four more students in this class.

For the benefit of mothers who could not leave their homes in the evening, sewing classes under Miss Luntz have been arranged in the afternoon, these will take the form of neighborhood gatherings so the women will not be forced to go long distances. These classes will meet in the following order: Monday at the Washington school, Tuesday at the Adams, Wednesday at the Jefferson, and Friday at the Douglas.

Mr. Hill further stated that the board was very desirous of satisfying the wishes of the women in providing schools, and that if a sufficient number of people wanted a class in some subject not already on the curriculum such a class would be gladly arranged if a teacher could be found for the work.

HIGH PRICES NOT DUE TO RETAILER

Merchant Maintains That Retailer Could Not Cut Price One Cent and Make Money.

Appropos of the prevailing high prices of foodstuffs one merchant today stated that they were in no way attributable to the retailers. He maintained that the continuation of retail grocers as highway robbers was born of ignorance and was thoroughly unjust.

"Not only is it impossible to secure many necessities from Europe because of the war," this merchant declared, "but this country is supplying Europe with foodstuffs as well. As a result the reserve supply of food has been used up, with the domestic and foreign demand for goods greater than ever. The Liverpool and London markets are taking everything they can get, and naturally the prices rise."

"Who is making the profits? Not the retailer. I can show you the books of most of the marketmen in this and any other city, and they reveal that a reduction in the selling price of only one cent will mean a balance on the wrong side of the ledger in eight months out of the year. The retailer is running on a pretty fine margin."

HEBREWS START CAMPAIGN FOR $200,000 CHARITY FUND.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Sept. 28.—A systematic campaign to raise $200,000 for charity by December 1 was started in New York today by the Federation for the Support of Jewish Philanthropic Institutions. Dispensation of the fund will take place during 1917. The federation will act as a co-operative clearing house both for collection and dispensation and thus hopes to abolish duplication of effort amongst the one hundred odd New York Jewish charities gathered under its banner.

Under the regulations each of the participating charities is to have at least as much money applied to it as in average years heretofore. In addition to the fund for this distribution the Federation intends to collect a surplus of $200,000 for general work. This brings the total needed to $2,000,000. A decreased cost of cost and goodwill on the part of the givers, because once giving they will be assured of not being solicited again, are depended on to yield the sum aimed at.

IRELAND INCREASES AGRICULTURAL AREA

Eighty-Five Thousand More Acres Devoted to Growing of Crops Through Efforts of Government.

(By Associated Press.)

Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 28.—The efforts of the Irish Department of Agriculture to increase the food supply have resulted in an addition of over 85,000 acres of land to the area under cultivation. Instructions have been sent about the country advising farmers as to the best means of utilizing their land, and the growing of catch crops.

Although Ireland has a flourishing linen trade in Belfast it does not, to any great extent, grow its own flax, and the department has been endeavoring to remedy this. Early in August, 1914, the department issued a memorandum advising flax-growers to save flax-seed for their sowing requirements. The following spring the procuring of seed during the season of 1914-15 was attended with considerable difficulties. Upon representations of the Department of Agriculture, facilities were obtained through the intervention of the Foreign Office, for the export of seed from Russia and Holland to this country. Through these supplies helped the flax-growers. It was insufficient to meet their full requirements. A Society of Flax-growers has been formed, and arrangements have been made for the cultivation of the crop on a more extensive scale.

CRIME AGAINST BANK SHOWS NO INCREASE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28.—Crimes committed against banks represented in the American Bankers Association report for the past year have shown no marked increase, according to the annual report of the Protective Department at the convention of the Association here today, and it was further shown that a large proportion of the burglaries and similar crimes proved unsuccessful.

For the period from August 1, 1915, to September 1 of this year, there was a total of 425 arrests and 307 convictions. The report notes that the losses sustained by members in connection with burglaries amounted only to $7,154, while the loss sustained by non-members amounted to more than $60,000. Through thirty-five holdups, however, there was a loss to members of $65,821, and through 115 robberies a loss of $26,500. The department now has 4,720 photographs of criminals, comprising burglars, holdup men, sneak thieves, forgers, and bogus check operators, with a complete record of each.
A large number of the crimes attempted against banks are due to carelessness on the part of the banks in permitting customers to use funds represented by uncollected checks, according to the report, and it was recommended that this practice be discontinued. Trouble is also caused through the practice of leaving blank checks on the counters, and it was urged that this practice be modified by printing across the face of such checks the words "Counter Check."

HOT CHARGES MADE BY MILK PRODUCERS

CRITICISM IS DIRECTED AT COM-MERCIAL CLUB, GAZETTE, AND RETAIL DEALERS.

SEE RIGHTS TRAMPLED

Meeting Held at City Hall Last Evening for Purpose of Perfecting Organization to Improve Market Conditions.

Charging that the Janesville Commercial club, the Gazette and the retail milk dealers of the city were in a combine to thwart the interests of the milk producers of this vicinity, W. O.
Austin, president of the Janesville milk association, led a spirited discussion of the Janesville milk situation at the third meeting of the organization last evening at the city hall. In addition to Austin, there were a number of speakers who urged the necessity of a recognition of the rights of the milk producers to better prices for their product.

Criticism Commercial Club.

The meeting was held at all a peaceful furthering of organization. In his attempt to arouse enthusiasm W.
O. Austin, chairman of the meeting, maintained that the farmers about Janesville and to their right and left alone. He charged that the Commercial club, which professed to be the friend of all the people and which was supposed to work for the greatest number of people, was in reality
"in cahoots" with the retailers, that the question of bringing a suitable market to Janesville, so that the farmers would have to make their milk to Footville, was broadcast to the club two years ago, and that since that time nothing had been done by the club. The sentiment in a considerable body of the meeting was strongly against the Commercial club,
in that it was partial and prejudiced.
It was contended that Janesville could not have an organization that was as biased as the Commercial club. It was declared that in the past three years the dairy farmers are the only class of producers who do not get more for their goods than they get in other parts of the country. This was attributed to the lack of organization which made them powerless to fight the retailers who were alleged to have formed a secret combine.

The object of the organization is to create a central market for their milk here in Janesville. If possible, where they can get the best prices for their dairymilk profitable rather than a loss,
where they can get the same prices,
for instance, that are paid in Beloit.
At present it was pointed out that the large number of the farmers who live near Janesville, who are deliberately taking their milk to towns farther away because they can command better prices in the latter places.

Find Organization Necessary.

Without organization, it was maintained, the price paid them could never be materially advanced, because there would always be some small farmer who would undersell the price paid down to the city. The prime object of the leaders was to ascertain the number of men who would join a local association—such as the one successfully maintained by the Chicago Milk Producers' association—and how many cows there were available. When these exact statistics are obtained they would be in a far better way to deal with the retailers or to bring foreign concern into Janesville, either with the purpose of handling the local market, or of shipping it away to a large extent, or of running a bottling or condensing plant in this city.

"We cannot continue to sell milk for $1.55 which costs us $2.25 to produce, said one of the speakers. "We cannot get the price we ask in Beloit, but we do not wish to do that; there is no reason why we cannot get the same prices here that are paid in that city. The retailers, if we bring them down, we are not here to put the retailers out of business in any way; we simply want what we deserve and we find that the retailers want our milk they will have to pay us prices that are commensurate in practically every other locality and that are sufficient to make our own business profitable."

Sixty-Five Members.

Up to last night there were about sixty-five farmers who had joined the local association. The following officers have been elected: President, W.
O. Austin; vice president, C. H. Henderson; secretary, George Woodward; treasurer, W. C. Huginn. It was hoped that as soon as definite information on the quantity of milk produced in the city was gathered, the association would be in a position to deal with other concerns and carry out their fight.

DOUGHERTY RESIGNS AS CITY'S ATTORNEY

HANDS RESIGNATION TO MAYOR
FATHERS TODAY—TO ENTER
BUSINESS WITH THOS.
S. NOLAN.

IN OFFICE FOUR YEARS

Appointed at Inauguration of Commission Form of Government—
He Has Been Loyal Worker
in City's Interests.

City Attorney William H. Dougherty
this morning handed his resignation to Mayor James A. Fathers. It will be effective Sept. 30, Saturday night. Mr. Dougherty gives primary business reasons as the cause of his departure.

Mr. Dougherty, who has been in the city since the inauguration of the commission form of government, has been a loyal worker in the city's interests.

He was appointed at the inauguration of the commission form of government, and has since that time been a loyal worker in the city's interests.

Mr. Dougherty's resignation reads
as follows:
To the Mayor and Council:
Commencing October 1, my private business will be so arranged as to make it impossible for me to longer continue in the services of the city.
It is necessary, therefore, for me to resign the office of city attorney to take effect as of October 1, 1916.

W. H. DOUGHERTY.
The resignation no doubt will formally come to the attention of Mayor Fathers and the Council tomorrow afternoon. Their meeting of Tuesday was adjourned until this time.

Mr. Dougherty's determination to give up the city position had been known by him to the city officials some time ago and his formal resignation this morning came as no surprise.

No Successor Named.
No definite selection has been made
as yet for the filling of the vacancy.
It is authoritatively stated that the city's attorneys are being considered for the position and it may be that the choice will be made Friday afternoon. The office of city attorney is located at 200 South Bluff street.

Mr. Dougherty has served as legal counsel for the city for four years, since the inauguration of the present type of government in April, 1912.
He has always proceeded with caution and has continually had the best interests of the city at heart. At the time of the recall election and the turmoil of the Milwaukee team, Mr. Dougherty was a staunch supporter of the commission form and proved a bulwark against which the "antis" made but little impression.

Arrangements have been completed whereby Mr. Dougherty and Thos. S.
Nolan will enter into a law firm partnership with offices in the Jackson block. Mr. Dougherty will be overseer of the business of the firm, although Mr. Nolan will give his attention to matters as the case may be.

The latter is attorney for the Rockford and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul company. Mr. Dougherty will assume these duties.

Fathers Praises Work.
Mayor Fathers voiced the sentiment of the city council when he declared that the resignation of Mr. Dougherty was a distinct loss to the city of Janesville.

Mr. Dougherty will be deprived of a most faithful and painstaking public servant," said Mayor Fathers. "I regret very much that the change in the business affairs of Mr. Dougherty makes it necessary for him to resign his position as city attorney."

The work that he has done for the city during his official connection with it has been most valuable, and he has shown a wisdom of the council when they appointed him to the office four years ago. Too much cannot be said in praise of Mr. Dougherty for the city of Janesville.

Mr. Dougherty will be a valuable asset to the city as a lawyer. While the city loses a very competent official I feel assured of further success for him in his new line of endeavor.

Mr. Dougherty during his term of office has been called upon to give legal advice in a large number of important matters for the city. He continued to give the city the benefit of his experience in the purchase of the water works, and it was to his credit that the deal was completed with the minimum amount of litigation.

Mr. Dougherty was repeatedly called upon to defend the city's interests in the matters arising from the construction of the Milwaukee street bridge, including the recent suit involving the structure and the suit brought by the Gould company. He was also called upon to give legal advice with reference to the installation of the lighting system, and in regard to all the numerous contracts into which the city has entered within the last four years.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. A. M. Reiss.
Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. A. M. Reiss, who died at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at Mrs. O. Reiss's home.

Mrs. Reiss had lived all her life in Janesville, but had a wide circle of friends in other cities. She will be deeply grieved to hear of her death. Her congenial disposition and cheerful nature made her most welcome in many homes in Janesville.

She was survived by her son, Peter Neuses of this city, whose first wife was the daughter of the deceased. The funeral will be held in Sheboygan.

James F. McCue.
Last rites were said over that which was mortal of James F. McCue this morning at St. Patrick's church, when Dean Reilly celebrated requiem high mass. The church was well filled with the many friends and admirers of the late master man. The interment was at Mount Olivet cemetery. The pallbearers were Timothy McCue, Michael McCue, John W. McCue, Edward Mc-
Cue, Laurence McCue and John Mc-Kewan.

GOLLNER GETS CARD BY GERMAN CENSOR

Succeeds in Sending Few Lines of Greeting to Geo. S. Parker, First in Eight Months.

Outwitting crafty German censors, John Gollner has succeeded in getting his first few lines since early in January into the United States. Since January after the advent of the new year
George S. Parker of this city has wondered why no word came from Mr.
Gollner and finally surmised that the German censors had completely deleted all mail from him. Mr. Gollner evidently had the same hunch, as shown by the ruse he used in getting his first post card which arrived this morning.

Mr. Gollner addressed the card to Herr Charles Olsen at Copenhagen, the Denmark distributor of the product of the Janesville pen company. He wrote a few lines to the head of the agency and then went on with a note addressed to Mr. Parker. Olsen then through the trick forwarded the card to Mr. Parker.

The card was sent from Oberammergau, the place where the famous Passion play is given each year. It bears the stamp of the Passion theatre and shows the picture of Anton Lang "an der Arbeit" (at work), a moulding a small clay vase. Anton Lang is a recent play took the part of the Saviour. Dispatches from Germany just about a year ago this time reported him to have been killed in battle. He is not definitely known whether this is a fact or not,
but from the card it may be taken that the Christ actor still lives as no notation is made of his death.

Strange Engines of Warfare Stink Pots To English Tanks

Washington, D. BELOIT COLLEGE HOLDS HILL DAY

Entire School Turns Out to Enjoy Picnic on Heights Across River From Yost's Park.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 28.—Professors departed like kids again and vied with students in quick fire pig gobbling demonstrations at the annual hill day picnic of Beloit college at Big Hill, four miles north of the city on Rock river today. Four hundred attended, classes being suspended for the day. "Everybody served up right minutes" was the slogan at the noon feed when files of hungry collectors double quickened past the lunch counter and set a record for rapid eating. A program of sports lasted all day with a "Diatonic Platoon" in the afternoon to add the proper hickory touch.

Before students serving as heads of committees for the event were Everett Bowden, Breadhead; Norris Reed, Green Bay; Adelbert Friedrich, Beloit; and Gordon Anderson, Milwaukee.

The following was the program for the day:
9:00—Special cars leave Beloit for Yost's Park.
10:00—Indoor baseball games, seniors vs. sophomores, juniors vs. freshmen.
11:00—Inter-group cross country relay race.
12:00—Lunch, seniors vs. freshmen.
1:00—Non-lunch, everyone invited in 15-minute intervals.

Afternoon.
1:00—All college songs.
1:30—Contest between Reds and Blues.
2:00—Extemporaneous speaking. Why is a Platoon? A Diatonic Platoon, why I am such a good speaker.
2:30—Stunts. How the faculty would play football. Motion pictures, puns, and other.

Suggestions.
Walk up if possible, if not use special cars.
Be sure to bring your own knife, fork and spoon.
Report at headquarters at Big Hill as soon as you arrive.
Watch out for trains. Safety first.
If the weather is doubtful, listen for the chapel bell. If it rings it means a holiday anyhow.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

Not one picture play fan in a hundred can answer the question, "Am I a blonde or a brunette?" At least this is the position that is taken by Miss Bessie Eytan.

Miss Eytan, who has always been a keen student of the mechanical branch of the motion picture business, comes out with the statement that there is one place where the camera with all its wonderful achievements has failed. While ready to admit that in some cases the color of a woman's hair may be judged from the lights and shadows shown in certain positions taken during the making of a picture play, Miss Eytan asserts that under normal conditions it is next to impossible really to tell the color of hair from seeing it on the screen.

Her assertion has opened an interesting line of discussion. Miss Eytan's hair is a golden-ash. In the picture plays it shows more black than anything else.

People who have never met Miss Eytan personally seem loath to believe that her guesses are not just black.

The innkeeper had one other guest that night, a long-haired and wide-shouldered Texan, who reminded Duane of his grandfather. This man had penetrating eyes, a courtly manner, and an unmistakable leaning toward companionship and mischief. The gentleman introduced himself as Colonel Webb, of Marfa, and took it as a matter of course that Duane made no comment about himself.

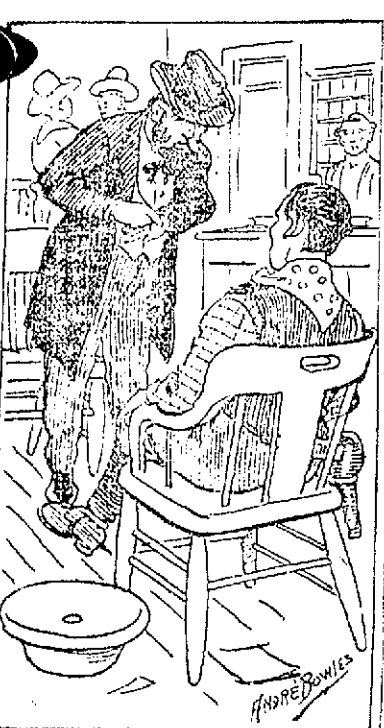

Duane, as always, was a good listener. Colonel Webb told, among other things, that he had come out to the Big Bend to look over the affairs of a deceased brother who had been a rancher and a sheriff of one of the towns, Fairdale, by name. "Found no affairs, no ranch, not even his grave," said Colonel Webb. "And I tell you, sir, if he's any tougher than this Fairdale I don't want to expiate my sins there."

"Fairdale. . . I imagine sheriffs have a hard row to hoe out here," replied Duane, trying not to appear curious.

The Colonel swore lustily. "What this frontier needs, sir, is about six companies of Texas Rangers. A fine body of men, sir, and the salvation of Texas."

"Governor Stone doesn't entertain that opinion," said Duane.

Here Colonel Webb exploded. Manifestly the governor was not his choice for a chief executive of the great state. He talked politics for a while, and of the vast territory west of the Pecos that seemed never to get a benefit from Austin. Duane exerted himself to be agreeable and interesting, and he saw presently that there was an opportunity to make a valuable acquaintance, if not a friend.

"I'm a stranger in these parts," said Duane, finally. "What is this outlaw situation you speak of?"

"It's damnable, sir, and unbelievable. Not rushing any more, but just wholesale herd-stealing, in which some big cattlemen, supposed to be honest, are equally guilty with the outlaws. On this border, you know, the rustler has always been able to steal cattle in any numbers. But to get rid of big bunches—that's the hard job. The gang operating between here and Valentine evidently have not this trouble. Nobody knows where the stolen stock goes. But I'm not alone in my opinion that most of it goes to several big stockmen. They ship to San Antonio, Austin, New Orleans, also to El Paso."

"Wholesale business, eh?" remarked Duane. "Who are these—er—big stock-buyers?"

Colonel Webb seemed a little startled at the abrupt query. He bent his penetrating gaze upon Duane and thoughtfully stroked his pointed beard.

"Names, of course, I'll not mention. Opinions are one thing, direct accusation another. This is not a healthy country for the informant."

When it came to the outlaws themselves, Colonel Webb was disposed to talk freely. The great name along the river was Chesheldine, but it seemed to be a name detached from an individual. No person of veracity known to Colonel Webb had ever seen Chesheldine. Strange to say of an outlaw leader, as there was no one who could identify him, so there was no one who could prove he had actually killed a man.

But in striking contrast to this mystery was the person, character, and cold-blooded action of Poggin and Knell, the chief's lieutenants. They were familiar figures in all the towns within two hundred miles of Bradford. Knell had a record, but as gunman with an incredible list of victims. Poggin was supreme. If Poggin had a friend no one ever heard of him. There were a hundred stories of his nerve, his wonderful speed with a gun, his passion for gambling, his love of a horse—his cold, implacable, inhuman wiping out of his path any man that crossed it.

"Chesheldine is a name, a terrible name," said Colonel Webb. "Sometimes I wonder if he's not only a name. In that case where does the brain of this gang come from? No; there must be a master craftsman behind this border pillage; a master capable of handling those terrible, Poggin and Knell. Of all the thousands of outlaws developed by western Texas in the last twenty years these three are the greatest. In southern Texas, down between the Pecos and the Nueces, there have been and are still many bad men. But I doubt if any outlaw there, possibly excepting Buck Duane, ever equaled Poggin. You've heard of this Duane?"

"Yes, a little," replied Duane quietly.

"I'm from southern Texas. Buck Duane, then, is not known out here?"

"Why, man, where isn't his name known?" returned Colonel Webb. "I've kept track of his record as I have all the others. His fame in this country appears to hang on his matchless gun-play and his unflinching outlaw chiefs."

"Has Chesheldine's gang been busy lately?" asked Duane.

"No. Probably all the stock that's being shipped now was rustled long ago. Chesheldine works over a wide section, too wide for news to travel inside of weeks. There are some people who think Chesheldine had nothing to do with the bank-robberies and train hold-ups during the last few years in this country. But that's poor reasoning. The jobs have been too well done, too surely covered, to be the work of greasers or ordinary outlaws."

"What's your view of the outlook? How's all this going to wind up? Will the outlaw ever be driven out?" asked Duane.

"Never. There will always be outlaws along the Rio Grande. All the armies in the world couldn't comb the wild brakes of that fifteen hundred miles of river. But the sway of the outlaw, such as is enjoyed by these great leaders, will sooner or later be past. There's talk of Vigilantes, the same that were organized in California and are now in force in Idaho. So far it's only talk. But the time will come. And the days of Chesheldine and Poggin are numbered."

CHAPTER XVI.

Next morning Duane mounted his horse and headed for Fairdale. He rode leisurely, as he wanted to leave all he could about the country. There were few ranches. The farther he traveled the better grazing he encountered, and, strange to note, the fewer herds of cattle. It was just sunset when he made out a cluster of adobe houses that marked Sanderson, half-way between Bradford and Fairdale. When he drew up before the inn the landlord and his family and a number of loungers greeted him laconically.

"Rent the stage in, hey?" remarked one.

"There she comes now," said another. "Joel shore is drivin' tonight."

Far down the road Duane saw a cloud of dust and horses and a lumbering coach. Presently it rolled up, a large mud-bespattered and dusty vehicle, littered with baggage on top and tied on behind. A number of passengers alighted, three of whom excited Duane's interest. One was a tall, dark, striking-looking man, and the other two were ladies, wearing long gray blouses and veils. Duane heard the proprietor of the inn address the man as Colonel Longstreth, and as the party entered the inn Duane's quick ears caught a few words which acquainted him with the fact that Longstreth was the mayor of Fairdale.

Duane passed inside himself to learn that supper would soon be ready. At table he found himself opposite the three who had attracted his attention.

"Ruth, I envy the lucky cowboys," Longstreth was saying.

Ruth was a curly-headed girl with gray or hazel eyes. "I'm crazy to ride bronchos," she said.

Duane gathered that she was on a visit to western Texas. The other girl's deep voice, sweet like a bell, made Duane regard her closer. She did not resemble the Colonel, who was evidently her father. She looked tired, quiet, even melancholy. A finely chiseled oval face, that had something nervous and delicate about it which made Duane think of a thoroughbred, a mouth by no means small, but perfectly curved, and hair like jet proclaimed her beauty to Duane. When she looked at him, drawn by his rather persistent gaze, there was pride, fire, and passion in her eyes. Duane felt himself blushing in confusion.

After supper the guests assembled in a big sitting-room where an open fireplace with blazing mosquito sticks gave out warm and cheery glow. Duane took a seat by a table in the corner, and, finding a paper, began to read. Presently when he glanced up he saw two dark-faced men, strangers who had not appeared before. They were peering in from a doorway. When they saw Duane had observed them they stepped back out of sight.

It flashed over Duane that the strangers acted suspiciously. In Texas to the seventies it was always bad policy to let strangers go unheeded. Then he went out into a patio, and across it to a little dingy, dim-lighted barroom. Here he found the innkeeper dispensing drinks to the two strangers.

"How somethin'?" one of them asked, leaning. Both looked Duane up and down.

"No thanks, I don't drink," Duane replied, and returned their scrutiny with interest. "How's tricks in the Big Bend?"

Both men stared. It had only taken a close glance for Duane to recognize a type of ruffian most frequently met along the river. These strangers had that stamp, and their surprise proved he was right. Here the innkeeper showed signs of uneasiness, and seconded the surprise of his customers. No more was said at the instant, and the two rather hurriedly went out.

"Say, boss, do you know these fellows?" Duane asked the innkeeper. "None. They nooned each, comin' from Bradford they said, an' trailed in after the stage."

When Duane returned to the sitting-room Colonel Longstreth was absent, also several of the other passengers. Miss Ruth sat in the chair he had vacated, and across the table from her sat Miss Longstreth. Duane went directly to them.

"Excuse me," said Duane, addressing them. "I want to tell you there are a couple of rough-looking men here. I've just seen them. They mean evil. Tell your father to be careful. Lock your doors—bar your windows to-night."

"Oh!" cried Ruth, very low. "Ray, do you hear?"

Austrian City, Clearing House For Italian Prisoners of War

(By Associated Press.)

Mauthausen, Austria, Sept. 28.—From a picturesque though little known village on the upper Danube, Mauthausen has become the "clearing house" in Austria for Italian prisoners of war.

Its peace-time population of a few hundred persons has grown to the size of a small city, and each month there pass through it, with a three weeks' stop for quarantine purposes, several thousand Italian soldiers and several hundred Italian officers.

The town consists of a group of picturesque houses, a church or two and an ancient palace that clings to the edge of the Danube. What may be called the new city consists of acres of white-washed barracks, holding in all when full 42,000 soldiers.

There were only some eight or ten thousand Italian soldiers and friends in the town when the Associated Press correspondent arrived to pay the camp a visit. Two days earlier there had been 25,000, but the greater part of them had been sent out along their wayward path to permanent camps in eastern Austria and Hungary.

Daily there arrive at Mauthausen some 8,000 bulky parcels or "love gifts" from relatives and friends in Italy. The building and bookkeeping department of the camp has to maintain a ledger with something over 41,000 running bank accounts, the total of which far exceeds a million crowns. Each prisoner, wherever he may be, is permitted to possess ten crowns a week for canteen spending money. All that he receives from home over that goes into his account. The actual handing of cash devolves upon Austrian officers; the bookkeeping is done by Italian prisoners of war, who are thus in a position to know that the funds of their comrades are honestly and accurately administered.

So long as he stays in Mauthausen, which may be for a year, if his conduct is good, the Italian soldier is offered the privileges of a school in which illiterates are taught to read and write and in which the better educated may take courses in German, English and in other useful subjects. If so inclined he may take up painting and wood carving and sculpture. He will be furnished the materials, his "product" will be sold at a price not under a minimum set by himself, and he will be given the balance between sale price and cost of materials. Or he can enter either the stringed orchestra, or the brass band.

The correspondent saw an exhibition of one of the half dozen fire companies, composed wholly of Italians, who guarded the camp from a possible conflagration, and who as a matter of fact have kept the camp very clean—far better than any the correspondent had seen in the course of visits to camps in other countries.

The hospital section of the camp is one of the best in Austria, in cleanliness and equipment. It is the colonel's boast that there never has been an epidemic of any character, that only such diseases as were brought by the new men have been encountered, and that there have been a large number of cures. Deaths occur regularly, as in any large community, but now the cause is chiefly tuberculosis of ancient standing among the prisoners.

Since the wounded as well as the well often come to Mauthausen the camp has met the need for artificial limbs by creating a little factory for manufacturing these devices. The camp, and up to date has turned out about 150 and trained the war victims to use them.

The Young Men's Christian Association amusement hall, with its stage has been equipped with scenery made by the prisoners and with a drop curtain showing the Bay of Naples. Here too are the educational classes, conducted by the intelligent and gifted Italians.

The English classes are conducted by "Tony" Tenore, who told the correspondent that a brother in New York (Frank Tenore of 304 Bridge street, Brooklyn), believed him to be dead because he had had no opportunity to communicate with him. The Italian, who said he had lived two years in America, begged to be remembered to the brother.

One of the chief aims of the authorities is to give the men as much opportunity to work as possible, and on the whole find them tractable and willing. If the men do nothing they receive 6 cents a day if privates, 12 cents if corporals or sergeants, and 18 cents if higher non-commissioned officers. If they go out to work on farms or in quarries or roads they get a settled sum in addition. Self-government, insofar as it is possible, has been introduced, and the common soldiers are commanded by their own non-commissioned officers and merely supervised by Austrian troops. According to the number in camp they live, 150 to 250, in the big, airy, lighted barracks, with their own superiors told off to keep them in order.

Their food, so far as the correspondent could judge from an examination of a week's bill of fare, appears to be ample though somewhat monotonous. They have two meatless days a week, as all the rest of Austria does, a fast day, and the other restrictions. But the authorities find it hard to compel Italian tastes to accustom themselves to Austrian food.

The few Serbian prisoners delight in the Austrian bread but the Italians loathe it and eat it only when their families have sent them none of their favorite Italian bread—which arrives to the extent of about twenty thousand packages a week.

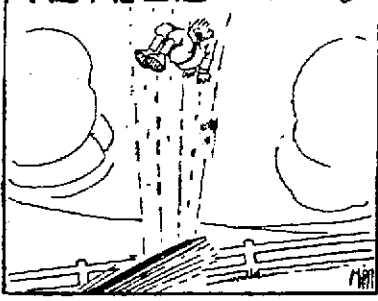

Though the men are inclined to be moody at times, in keeping with their temperament, none of them seem to have lost spirit so far as to the war is concerned. The colonels laughed as they told of the marked change in the camp when the prisoners read of the beginning of the general offensives against the Central Powers. And in the course of the walk through the huge camp the correspondent spoke with no single soldier who did not express a firm belief in the eventual victory of his side.

Close to one of the exits from the camp lies a miniature cemetery, half full of prim little graves carefully marked for the benefit of relatives who after the war may wish to have the bodies of their loved ones exhumed and brought home.

WISCONSIN PLAYERS IN LONG SCRIMMAGE

Withington's Men Given Severe Try-out in Drizzling Rain of Wednesday Afternoon.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 28.—In spite of the inclement weather Dr. Withington sent his players through a long scrimmage Wednesday afternoon at Camp Randall. A slow, drizzling rain all through the day made the ground soft and as a result the footing was very uncertain for the men. It was the initial scrimmage drill of the year and a large number of students were on hand to get a line on the men.

The four squads played against each other for nearly an hour. Dr. Withington continually changed the men, giving all a chance to show their ability. The members of the first string showed exceptionally well in spite of the many fumbles due to the ball being wet. After the first few minutes of scrimmage the ground became so wet that the men had trouble in holding their footings. They were able, however, to execute the formations learned during the early part of the week so that Withington and his assistants were satisfied with the results.

Bob Simpson and Bert seem to have the call on the halfback places because of their consistent work so far this year. They played fullback last year but Dr. Withington has decided that he will make a better halfback and is spending plenty of time with him. He is a fast man in addition to hitting the line like a bullet. Edith of Janesville is showing good and should make good if he continues his present pace. While lacking in variety experience, he is fast learning the Harvard style of play both on the offense and the defense. O'Brien, McClure and Langhoff are also showing class in the backfield of the second squad as halfbacks. Edler has been playing on the second string of back and is expected to be the best of the first squad men is unable to play.

Kreuz, a veteran of two years, and who was injured last year is back in his old position at fullback this year and is going at it with a will. With Simpson and Bert at halves and him at full Wisconsin will be well taken care of on the offensive side of the game. Taylor is showing plenty of leadership. Nelson, a new man, while lacking in experience, is a man of ability and Coach Withington is looking for him to develop rapidly.

Although everyone was given a chance to take part in the scrimmage, Dr. Withington paid attention to the team which started the practice. This team lacks like the one which will start the conference games and is composed of the following men: Kirk, Captain Myers and Granger, tackle; Gray and Koch, guards; Owens and Hancock, center; Kieckhefer. The backfield was composed of Simpson and Lang, fullbacks; Kreuz, fullback and Taylor, quarterback.

Saturday the first and second squads will engage in a regular game at Camp Randall for the benefit of the students who are to see the men in action and thus determine their chances for the conference title. The Saturday following Lawrence comes to Madison for the opening game of the year so Dr. Withington has little time left in which to choose his team. Many Janesville people will be interested to know that Gray, who is making good on the first string at tackle is the same player who played basketball last winter at the rink as a member of the Cardinal five.

New York Pitcher Passes Two in Final Inning and Sacrifice Brings in Winning Run.

The Red Sox took a flimsy grip on the pennant at the expense of New York in the tenth inning. The Sox were down 3-2 in the bottom of the tenth. GIANTS TAKE 23RD; BEAT CARDS IN 10TH Rally With Two Men Down and Get Two on When Herzog's Triple Turns Tide for Victory.

With their backs against the wall the Giants rallied furiously with two out in the ninth Wednesday afternoon, swept away a two-run lead and defeated the Cardinals in the tenth 3 to 2. It was their twenty-third straight victory. Until the ninth inning they had been held scoreless by Steele, while the Cardinals had reached Anderson early for two runs. Starting their final inning, Holke filed out, but McCarthy drew a pass. Kelly was sent in to bat for Smith, who pitched the eighth and ninth innings. He lifted a pop to Betzel. The crowd was filling out when Burns singled, McCarthy stopping at second. Then came Herzog, who smashed the second ball pitched for a triple to right, tying the score. Herzog's blow ended Steele's effectiveness, for in the tenth inning Zimmerman started off with a single and Fletcher and Kautz went out home. Holke had filed to Miller for the first out when Steele uncorked a wild pitch which enabled Zimmerman to score the winning run.
